

Join your colleagues from across the country in supporting Backline – Become a Community Ally Today!

As fellow providers and advocates for reproductive health and justice, you know how vital Backline services are for women and their loved ones in need of support around pregnancy, parenting, abortion and adoption. Our Talk Line is the only toll-free, national resource of its kind, available to women from the first moment of finding out they are pregnant, throughout their decision making process, and all the way through their experiences postpartum, post-abortion or post-placement.

Backline believes that building relationships with reproductive health providers and organizations is the best way to serve women and their loved ones nationwide. It is with this in mind that Backline has developed our Community Ally program. Becoming a Community Ally allows organizations and clinics to benefit from a strong relationship to Backline, and supports our vision that women will have the resources they need to make the pregnancy decisions that are best for their lives.

Why Become a Community Ally?

As a Community Ally, you will receive unlimited access to Backline materials, including brochures, wallet cards and posters. Community Allies also receive discounts on Backline Professional Trainings, a subscription to our newsletter, and regular updates on Backline events and programs. Community Allies are listed on Backline's website and select print materials and have permission to use Backline's logo on their own website and materials. This affiliation shows that you are strongly committed to the full range of pregnancy options, and to offering comprehensive support to women and their loved ones before, during and after a pregnancy experience, no matter what choice she makes.

Join Today!

Our affordable annual membership fee is $250 for nonprofit organizations and $350 for clinics and other healthcare providers.
